ALLIES MAKE GAINS; FRANCE AND TURKEY

Berlin Admits Two Reverses Claimed by Paris, At Neuville St. Vaast and at Souchez

TEUTONIC ALLIES CONTINUE ADVANCE IN RUSSIA

On the Gallipoli Peninsula the Allied Troops Are Forging Ahead—Have Gained 500 Yards Along Front of Nearly 300 Miles—The Italian Naval Forces Have Carried Out Several Operations Against Austria Coast Points in the Middle and Lower Adriatic—Five More British Trawlers Have Been Sent to the Bottom by German Submarines.

Considerable gains by the allied forces in France on the Gallipoli peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey were chronicled by London and Paris, while damage to Austrian positions on the Adriatic by Italian ships is reported by Italy. Berlin admits that the reverses claimed by Paris, at Neuville St. Vaast, where the Germans have lost two groups of houses and the relinquishment of the sugar factory at Souchez.

The Germans, however, assert that they and their Austrian allies continue to make good progress against the Russians in Galicia, taking from them numerous positions and capturing large numbers of men and guns.

The gains on the western front claimed by Paris are on the sector north of Arras and at Neuville, where trenches to the south of the "Labyrinth" have been taken, and north of the Aisne, where a bombardment, two successive lines of trenches and several German works were captured and counter-attacks repulsed.

Germany reports the repulse with heavy losses to the allies of attacks on the eastern slope of the Loreto Heights.

An advance of 500 yards along a front of nearly three miles, in which the lines of German trenches on the Gallipoli peninsula were taken by the allies, is reported by London and Paris. The fighting was most sanguinary, and the British and French cruisers and destroyers aided their land forces in capturing the Turkish positions.

In the taking of Amara, on the Tigris river, in Asiatic Turkey, the British received the surrender of the governor and some 20 officers and about 500 soldiers. In all in that district the British took prisoner more than 2,000 men.

The Italian naval forces have carried out several operations against the Austrian coast points in the middle and lower Adriatic. They have cut the cable connecting the island of the archipelago to the continent and destroyed by bombardments the light-houses and lookout stations of the islands. Attention also has been directed at the hands of torpedo boat destroyers and the railway between Cattaro and Rijeka in Dalmatia has been bombarded and damaged.

Five more British trawlers have been sent to the bottom by German submarines.
